All Cooks Look Alike

In the busy city, but what a sad disappointment when the "kitchen queen" gets suddenly and the table looks anything but enticing to a social gathering. When in doubt as to what to do, use The Freeman's "Ship Wanted" Card-Word Department.

Bald Head Houses More Brain Power

Oxford, Aug. 11.—Bald heads mean high brain power according to Professor H. Fleure speaking before the British society for the advancement of science here.

The growth of hair absorbs much energy and as the hair tains the brain growth increases, professor Fleure declared.

Dr. R. T. Gunther declared that as man has advanced he has grown less and less hair.

MIDSUMMER CIRCUS AT CAMP WENDY

Saturday night will see the annual circus given by the Camp Wendy girls. The group this week is small in comparison with those of previous weeks, but their enthusiasm is of the keener. Every one interested is most cordially invited to be present Saturday evening to see the most amazing spectacle since P. T. Barnum's day. A whole shack full of freaks, a gypsy fortune teller who will peer into the future for you for a silver coin, the snake charmer with her box of writhing snakes and ballroom men, the trained animals—the ring master with his high hat and whip—all this you may see on Saturday night, and more too, for the ideas are coming thick and fast. All are invited to come, buy peanuts, popcorn, hot dogs and red lemonade, only a nickel, half a dime, at Camp Wendy, Saturday evening, August 14, 1926 at 7:30 o'clock.

MISTRIAL IN CASE OF "CRY BABY" BANDITS

New York, Aug. 11.—A mistrial was declared on Tuesday in the case of the five "Cry Baby" bandits after their trial had been halted abruptly by the strange actions of a member of the jury.

The new trial will begin Thursday with the calling of a special jury panel.

Louis Long, jurymen, leaped to his feet and shouted:

"I demand to be released from this trial immediately."

Long's dramatic interruption came when Philip Oberst, young dental mechanic, was testifying. Police alleged that Oberst is the leader of the "Cry Baby" gang, known also as the "Blue Sedan" bandits. They are on trial for the attempted robbery of Loochine's bank.

The Automower

An American motorist touring this country pulled up at the roadside, where an aged countryman was mowing.

"Air yew a native?" asked the tourist, and, receiving an affirmative reply, added: "Then you don't know what this is?" He indicated his luxurious car.

"Aye, that be a motor car."

"No; it's an automower."

"Aye, said the aged one. 'An' you won't know wot this be.' He pointed to his scythe."

"It's a scythe."

"You be wrong; it's an automower."

grass."—London Tit-Bits.

Age of Figureheads

The age of sail was pregnant with strange belief and sentiment. To the imaginative and superstitious sailor the figurehead not only expressed the individuality of the craft, but it made her a living thing. To many, it was the guardian spirit in whose sacred care the inexplicable future lay. More than one old salt has refused to go to sea behind a naked bow, and when owners skimped in the matter of figurehead, shaggy eyebrows contracted and doleful predictions thundered forth as to the fate that awaited the unlucky craft.

Nature's Largest Plants

Scientists are now turning their attention to submarine farming, for the ocean beds contain rich pastures of vegetables. In the northern Pacific alone there are 2,000,000 square miles of unexplored sea bottom. As good to eat as any vegetables grown in the garden are the giant seaweeds covering 10,000 square miles off the Straits of Fuca. These kelps, as they are called, are the largest plants in the world for the stem is often 100 feet long and carries a tuft of leaves 30 feet across.

Vast Tracts of Land

Under One Ownership

Probably the largest single "farm," if it may be called such, which has been held in the United States, is Maryland. Lord Baltimore was the sole proprietor of the grant and to this day all deeds in the state go back to his title.

The English settlers coming to the southern colonies had a passion for land. They liked to be lords of all they surveyed and placed their manor houses accordingly. One of the most famous landowners was William Fitzhugh who acquired more than 50,000 acres. George Washington's Mount Vernon farm of 5,000 acres was small beside this.

Thirty-five thousand acres is the size of a remarkable wheat ranch in Montana, where a college-trained farmer has introduced modern factory methods for producing grain. Machines do most of the work and the cost accountant is one of the most valuable employees. On the same day that a tenant is plowing up a two-thirds-acre plot on Lord Manserv's feudal farm in England, 15 tractors pulling gang plows break a 150-foot furrow six miles long. They plow a square mile a day.—Boston Globe.

Little Really Known

of Wild Animal Life

The cougar is, next to the wolverine, the oddest feller among the wild thinkers, baring human savages, of course. A quirk is characteristic of the cougars (pumas, panthers, mountain lions, all one). They walk alone and alarm countless humans out of sheer companionship, with no less intention to harm. There are records of hungry cougars attacking and badly wounding children and men. In northern California a local doctor tells me he was nearly when a boy was badly clawed and a woman who went to his rescue was injured to the death. But these hunger (probably) attacks are balanced against many times more demonstrations of friendliness. Like the cats that walk with late poise in about dark hours of metropolitan nights. We have been so eager to butcher wild life, especially the nobles of the forest, that we have only the faintest understanding of the mental processes of the creatures. The humor of bears, the pride of the deer, the fancies of the cats, the endurance and conscience of wolves—what do we really know about them?—Mr. Spoons, in Adventure Magazine.

Why He Married Her

He said he married her because he loved her.

She said he married her because she really understood him.

His friend the biologist said he married her because he was tall and she was short, and he was blond and she was dark.

His friend the psychoanalyst said he married her because she resembled his mother.

The girl who had wanted him for herself said he married her because he loved her money.

The man who wanted her for himself said he married her because he wanted her money.

But the real reason he married her was that she had squandered his hard-earned money sitting out a dance the night he proposed.—Exchange.

Quickly Gone

"In this life nothing is permanent but change," declares a philosopher. Our change is very fleeting.—Boston Transcript.

KINGSTON, N. Y., AUG. 11, 1926.

It may seem impossible to preach State rights and forward Federal aggression at the same time, but close observers of the recent past are well satisfied that it can be done.

Writing in praise of the Coolidge, William Allen White contends that Mrs. Coolidge is "a part of the picture, and much the best-looking part at that." But she has more than looks to her credit. All the accounts and indications go to show that the present "First Lady" is deservedly popular.

Though "a free press is the supreme expression of a self-governing community," Thomas Dixon, fiction writer, is convinced that there is a "growing demand" for censorship and predicts that "Federal government censorship of the press will be established within ten years." It is to be hoped—and we may well believe—that it will take longer than that to bring about so radical a departure from the great American principle which has ruled ever since the ascendancy of Thomas Jefferson.

LEAVE TO PRINT.

The Congressional Record seems to be trying to make amends for what Congress failed to do before adjournment by printing anything and everything. It has reached page 12,270 and there is no telling when its "Extension of Remarks" will terminate. Rather noticeable in the interminable stream of words is "The Tragedy of Misunderstood Youth" by the Hon. Brooks Fletcher of Ohio, with such eye-catching sub-heads scattered through it as "Why Old Folks Knock Young Folks," "Human Nature Does Not Flip-Flop in a Generation," "Gossiping on a Verboten Spree in the Slum of Imagination," and "What Happens When We Lift the Lid Off of Hell."

Our youth "want truth, not platitudes," says Mr. Fletcher, though seemingly inclined to supply them abundantly with the latter. Why even an unlimited grant for "extension of remarks" should bring such extraneous discussion into the record of the wisdom of our Solons at Washington is a question without an answer, although it is characteristic of the Record to furnish tons of easy writing and hard reading.

MORE RIGHTS FOR WOMEN.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch notes that "Congress neglected the women almost as much as it neglected the farmers of Iowa" and quotes Washington dispatches to the effect that "hundreds of measures affecting the rights of women failed to pass, although most of these bills were sponsored by the National Woman's Party." It is rather surprising to hear of "hundreds of bills" to give more rights to women in a country where the popular impression is that women have already received all the rights of men in addition to all their former rights and privileges. European critics have even asserted that America is the most "woman-ridden" country in the world—an assertion which obviously overlooks those regions where polyandry prevails.

In his "To Lhasa in Disguise" William Montgomery McGovern, an English invader of the "forbidden land" of Tibet, describes the visit of a Bhutanese chieftainess with "three of her husbands," all "very weak and lame-looking," as might be expected in view of the fact that "the husky dame had the reputation of being something of a bully." Though this was as far back as 1922, her hair was bobbed and her dress was very short, exposing "a vast quantity of leg."

That she was very strong physically was indicated by the ease with which she wore a great achille of coral which "weighed more than fifteen pounds." She chewed betel and "spat out with great gusto" on everything within range. But this ponderous and imposing amazon, with three wretched husbands in tow, seemed to be very much afraid of dogs, and when a puppy trotted up and barked she "gave one shriek and ran for protection, not to one of her husbands, but to Mr. Harcourt, the cosmopolitan, the youngest and handsomest member of our party," to whom she "threw an adoring glance that all the beauty was reported out of her."

fore there was time to remove the barking puppy. After this episode the McGovern party "began to fear that Mr. Harcourt would be kidnapped and added to the lady's harem," so they pulled up stakes and departed hurriedly at an early hour the next morning.

Though it is impossible to imagine what all the "hundreds" of bills to give more rights to American women are concerned with, we can at least feel reasonably assured that none of them contains a demand for the legalization of polyandry.

LOCATING THE GALL BLADDER.

There has always been a question in the minds of physicians and X-ray experts as to the value of the findings on the gall bladder.

The meal used for examination of stomach and intestine gives very satisfactory pictures of the progress of this meal all the way through. It has not formerly been so satisfactory in the test for stones or other irregularities in the gall bladder.

I spoke once before about a new process that was just coming into use for the examination of the gall bladder. A western surgeon has worked out a system that is proving very satisfactory in these cases.

As you know, about one in every twenty individuals have gall stones, but only a fraction of this number know it, or ever suspect it.

This means that it is possible to have gall stones and have no distress of jaundice from them. They are found most frequently in middle aged folks, in women five times as frequently as in men, in folks who do not exercise or bestir themselves and who are fond of the good things of the table. These gall stones often cause a stagnation in the gall bladder, and an infection ensues.

This surgeon gives the patient a substance containing iodine either by the mouth or by injection into a vein. If given by the mouth it is taken in capsule form with the evening meal, or one or two hours afterwards. The first film or picture is taken at 9 o'clock the next morning. No breakfast nor lunch is permitted, and films are taken again at 1 o'clock and at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The patient then has his regular evening meal and his ordinary meals the next day. If there is any evidence of trouble, then this is checked up by an injection into the vein.

There is no disturbance to the patient other than going without his breakfast and lunch the day after he has taken this dye substance, except that he is advised to lie on his right side during sleep. As a matter of fact that is good advice to follow at all times.

Now gall stones can be confused with a number of conditions in the early stage.

There is the irregular sort of indigestion, pain and rigidity in the abdomen which makes the diagnosis difficult. However, when there is the real colic from the lodgement of a stone in the duct, there is sudden pain in upper part of abdomen, nausea, vomiting and jaundice. This dye will now make the diagnosis easy because any irregularity of the gall bladder will be shown on the film.

However, to prevent gall stone formation, bending exercises, loose clothing and sane eating, especially avoiding fats, are your best methods. Occasional doses of epsom salts will be of help also.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Aug. 11, 1916.—The Phoenixia Garage at Phoenixia was burglarized. Frederick H. Matus died on Smith avenue, aged 46 years. He was a former city editor of the Tinker's Daily News.

Death of the Rev. Arad J. Sebring, pastor of the Katsbaan Reformed Church since 1885.

Waterproof Stockings

Mud and rain splashed stockings may now be things of the past. It is claimed that a new shower-proof stocking, made from artificial silk and treated by a patented process, cannot be marked by mud or water. These stockings can be dyed any color, and in appearance are exactly like any other artificial silk stocking. Another interesting invention in the artificial silk industry is a process to diminish the naturally bright luster of the fiber. By the adoption of a special finish artificial silk goods can now be made with the characteristic dull luster of real silk. —Chicago Daily News.

A FRIEND

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

WE SAID a friend farewell today,
And covered him with flowers.
There was a preacher there to pray,
And an old friend of ours,
And his arms and gently said
Some simple things about the dead.

I looked around the quiet room,
And every one was there—
Yes, hearts had blossomed like the blossom

That made the chance fair—
For Charlie, Eddie, Dick and Jim
Had gathered there to honor him
And millions walked down the aisle

To sit beside the poor,
To hold communion for a while
With all that will endure
The greatness of a city stood
And wept for one so gently good.

In life we thought our friend had made
A failure out of him,
In death we know how unafraid
He faced the life that is—
For souls will swiftly mount above
When borne upon the wings of love.

There was no pomp of pageantry,
There was no roll of drums,
But angels crowd the wall to see
When such a pilgrim comes—
Yes, all God's best angels to say
A welcome to a friend today.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

BRUSH OFF THE DUST

WHEN the pendulum ceases to swing the clock stops and becomes useless because of some defect, perhaps, in its mechanism or a diminutive cable or clot of dust has wedged itself in the teeth of the wheels.

It is the same with humans. When the invisible marring becomes clogged, mental and physical activity gradually slow down and discontinue to function.

The winds of indifference and indolence and the gases of hate and envy are constantly stirring up particles of dirt and hindering right thought and action.

Whatever it may be with regard to our local estate, or our failure to progress, if we will soberly take stock of ourselves we may be amazed, on close examination, at the quantity of offending dust we find in our wheels.

Through apathy, indifference, and vision have become impaired to so great an extent that we realize our inability to compete with the alert people all about us, who by rubbing and brushing have managed to keep in perfect condition.

To advance and rise in our own estimation and in the estimation of others is the chief desire of every ambitious man and woman.

It is not possible to attain our wishes in this particular, even in a comparative degree, unless we regularly scrub the whirling wheels of dust and move steadily ahead in the clean, clear atmosphere of pure thinking and righteous doing.

To make ourselves worthy in the eyes of others it is necessary to acquit ourselves worthily in the eyes of ourselves.

And this cannot be done until we have scrubbed our body and soul and brushed off every particle of grit that causes disquiet and holds us back.

It is not always to the swift that victory comes, but rather to the faithful who keep steadily forward, scrubbing out eager arms toward the heavens and keeping as far away from the grime as it is humanly possible.

In spite of any misgiving you may have as to the result of such a course, read the stirring stories of the lives and struggles of the great men and women who made the fight before you were born and left behind them a trail of golden deeds.

Extra Pleasure from an Extra Process

Even without the toasting process, LUCKY STRIKES would rank as very fine cigarettes.

It would be a fine cigarette because it is made of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, perfectly aged and blended.

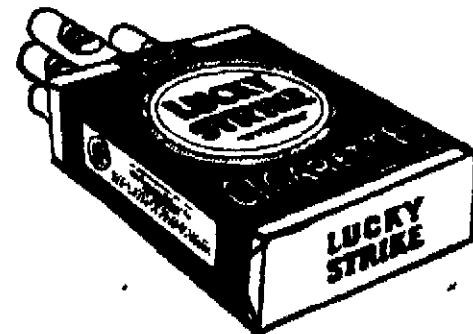

But the costly extra process of toasting lifts LUCKY STRIKES out of the ordinary, gives LUCKY STRIKES three distinctive features.

Toasting at high heat for 45 minutes (1) removes all "bite" and harshness and (2) develops the hidden flavors of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. Then (3) sudden chilling seals in these flavors and the proper degree of moisture which keeps them always fresh.

"IT'S TOASTED" represents a costly extra process that adds the finishing touch to a wonderfully fine cigarette.

Re-roof for the last time

RE-ROOF for the last time and save money from the very start, because now you don't have to tear off the old shingles. You can lay Johns-Manville Asbestos

Shingles right on top of them. You eliminate the chance of damage to plaster or furniture upstairs in case of sudden rain while the work is in progress. No fuss, no muss, no litter, no damage to flower beds near the house, no inconvenience at all. And the double roof will make your upper rooms warmer in winter and cooler in summer.

Johns-Manville Asbestos Shingles

last as long as the building they protect. Because they're made of asbestos fibre and Portland Cement, they simply cannot rot or burn, will not warp, curl or split; never rot or dry out and never need paint.

Re-roof for the last time and increase the value of your building. Johns-Manville Asbestos Shingles transform an old unsightly roof into one that is attractive, fire-proof and permanent.

Ask us for the interesting booklet "Re-roofing for the Last Time" which tells the whole story. It contains a lot of valuable information for home owners. Write, call or telephone today.

King Says He Is Not Engaged

Sofa, Aug. 11.—Persistent reports of the engagement of King Boris and Princess Giovanna of Italy have been officially denied by the Italian legation here.

Finance Minister Mellet, who has just returned from Switzerland, said today that King Boris is greatly annoyed at the reports of his engagement to Princess Giovanna. The King furthermore is greatly irritated at published reports that he desires to marry a wealthy American girl in order to recoup the royal fortunes.

Qualities That Give

Fern a Staple Value

Hawaii has an especially interesting species of fern which is so thickly covered with fine wool that it is gathered for stuffing pillows and even mattresses.

The columnar trunks of the tree fern of the tropics are frequently used for telephone poles and are so highly prized for upright supports in the construction of native huts that they are never left behind but carried away when the family moves as a valuable piece of household furniture. The fern stem is a well-known source of supply for the manufacture of rope and, since it is impervious to the action of water, it is in most cases superior to hemp. The great strength of the fern stalk is thought to come partly from the hard outer shell and partly from the intricate network of dark strands within.

The Boston fern finds a ready commercial value in annually supplying millions of American homes with living ferns, while the larger fern and the fancy fern of the northeastern part of the United States are gathered in enormous quantities in late summer and autumn and put in cold storage for winter use. When taken from the refrigerator months later these ferns are still as fresh as when cut, and supply the ever-increasing commercial demand as a setting for bouquets of roses and other cut flowers.

Living Organism That

Possesses No Shadow

At night a host of small creatures found safety in being divested of all pigment. In the course of evolution they had scraped off all the mercury from the back of their bodies, becoming so transparent that the food which they swallowed was the most conspicuous and obvious part of their anatomy.

I could never quite escape from a decided Alice in Wonderland feeling when I looked into a dish of night plankton scooped from the surface. By honest scrutiny I could perceive only the usual hosts of small fry, when, reaching down and lifting out what seemed only an area of clear water, there would materialize before my eyes a phytosoma. This was a creature who cast no more shadow than the thinnest skin of clear ice. Yet it was a living animal, more than three inches long, with all the general organs which we ourselves possess—eyes, mouth, feet, stomach, nerves, muscles and a strong will to live.

Phytosoma, or "leaf person," was the only name I could give them, although glass eyes would be more appropriate, for they were the pupils of some laboratory crosshairs and nothing is known of the intermediate stages.—"The Aesthetes Adventure," by William Beebe.

"Dog Days"

What are the "dog days"? Beginning on July 3 to the period supposed to be the hottest of the year, and which in ancient times was supposed to be the time of the dog star.

Ancient and religious being closely connected, it was thought that the position and brightness of the sun were connected with the position of the dog star, and that the heat of the sun, and not the dog star, was the cause of the heat.

From the old times we have learned that the dog days, though the time to often confused with the hot period during which dogs used to be supposed to be especially subject to heat.

ORGANIZATION HEADS DEFEND ANNOYING PRACTICE

And Lack Appreciation for Many Past Favors.

The following official letter has been received by The Freeman, evidently intended for publication, in connection with the recent publication of facts regarding methods of selling dance tickets by telephone:

TAPPEN CAMP, NO. 1,
Division of N. Y. S. of V. U. S. A.
Oliver M. Bush,
Commander
Geo. M. Simmons,
Senior Vice-Commander,
Hiram Woolsey,
Junior Vice-Commander,
Joy S. Rosa, Secretary,
8 Barnhart Ave.,
Louis Woolsey,
Treasurer.

Kingston, N. Y., Aug. 10, 1926.
Editor Freeman:

In your issue of Friday last was an article severely criticizing Ladies Auxiliary, No. 52, S. of V. for intensive method of selling tickets by telephone for their dance on August 12th. This method may have annoyed the public called up, some what, but they were not urged, and an answer of no settled the matter at once. The proceeds of the dance will be used to continue their work of aiding veterans of the Civil War and veterans' widows. Pratt Post, No. 127, G. A. R., and Tappen Camp, No. 1, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, appreciate the help, in fact, we could not do without their aid, which is ready at all times. The practice of telephoning has been general with various organizations, in the city, and we feel that the criticism has been unfair and unjust.

Your respectfully,
VIRGIL BRITT,
S. V. Com'd Pratt Post,
JOY S. ROSA,
Act. Adj. Pratt Post and Sec'y
Tappen Camp

Two wrongs do not make a right and the telephone annoyance is too serious and pestiferous to be longer endured without rebuke. The criticism was truthful and neither unfair nor unjust and The Freeman resents such a charge being made by a representative of organizations that have received, in the past, many apparently unappreciated favors.—Editor, The Freeman.

Island Never Had Frost

Although North Carolina often has several snowstorms in winter and cold snaps are common, there is one spot in the state where there never has been so much as a frost. This is Bald Head Island, at the mouth of the Cape Fear river, not far from Southport. It covers ten or twelve square miles and the growth is subtropical, says the Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer. Nowhere have live oak trees attained such magnificence, and nowhere else do palm trees thrive without protection of some sort from the cold. The island is a veritable jungle with about as equable a climate as could be desired. It is never hot and never cold.

The Nerve of Him

What next? That's what a young matron, who lives in Logan, is wondering. She responded to the ringing of the doorbell the other day and on the porch was a one-armed man. "Please help me," he whined. The homewife looked in her purse for some change. She thought there might be a dime there. But there was only five pennies. "I'm sorry," she said, "that I haven't more change, but here's five cents." The man gazed at her steadily. Then he turned away and without a word descended the porch steps.—Philadelphia Record.

Seemed Appropriate

The Women's Institute society was holding a meeting in the village hall and the subject under discussion was "Our Husbands." The chairman arose and made the following statement: "What we want is some sort of organization for our husbands, and we would like a few suggestions." "How about Our Dutch Friends' League?" inquired a member.—Stray Stories.

Plant Lived Without Air

That a plant can grow inside of a hermetically sealed glass bulb was demonstrated before the National Academy of Sciences. Water drawn up through the roots and evaporated from the leaves was condensed on the sides of the glass and, running down, was again used.—Popular Mechanism May 22nd.

What Happened To One Prince

Former Crown Prince of Serbia Now Under Heavy Guard Following Voicing of Republican Sentiments—Once Said He would Like to Be Austrian Emperor a Lusty Blow

Rome, Aug. 11.—Prince George of Yugoslavia, who before the war publicly expressed a desire to bark his knuckles on the jaw of the Emperor of Austria-Hungary, today is virtually a prisoner in an isolated castle at Srebergrad, far from any center of civilization, and constantly watched by guards to prevent any contact with the outside world, according to reports received here.

When Crown Prince of Serbia in 1909, George was forced to relinquish his rights in favor of his younger brother, Alexander, after a dispute with the Austrian military attaché at Belgrade. During the dispute the Crown Prince struck the Austrian representative a lusty blow, and followed it with his famous remark, that he wished he could hand the Austrian Emperor the same treatment.

The hot-headed young heir to the throne then called together the officers of his regiment and informed them that it was high time they put a stop to Austrian insolence. As a result the King was obliged to take a hand in the affair.

The Crown Prince was forced to resign his rights, and immediately left on a pleasure tour which continued until war broke out in 1914. He felt that Serbia's declaration of war against Austria was justification of his action against the Austrian attaché, and returned home expecting to have his rights returned.

Nothing of the kind happened, however, and the Prince joined the army, fighting with distinction and being wounded in action. After the war he could not forget his loss of the throne, and following numerous wordy fights with his brother, the King, he turned to Socialism. Recently he took to addressing street crowds, and army regiments, making inflammatory speeches of a republican character. Fearing that these sentiments in a former crown prince would encourage the attempted overthrow of the monarchy, Alexander had the red Prince arrested. And so today he rests alone under heavy guard because he resented the attitude of a representative of a country which his own government later fought on the field of battle.

Today's Story in New York History

By Frederic A. Godcharles. (Copyright, 1926, by the Author)

Fort Ontario, Invested by French, August 11, 1756. Was Last Post Surrendered by the British, August 11, 1790.

Governor William Burnet, of New York, wisely concluded that the English should get and maintain control of Lake Ontario. This he believed important for the benefits of trade and the security of the friendship of the Iroquois as well as to frustrate the designs of the French which were to confine the English to narrow limits.

Five years before the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth, the present site of Oswego, on Lake Ontario, was known to Champlain and the early French explorers and missionaries, and the importance of the Oswego river and harbor at its mouth was recognized. So this was the strategic point selected by Governor Burnet to build a trading-house, which was done in 1724, and the stone structure was fortified by the spring of 1726.

Other improvements were made later by the British. The French claimed this whole territory and remonstrated against these activities, and several times planned expeditions to destroy them, but did not carry them into effect.

Upon the commencement of the "Old French War," in 1753, Fort Ontario was erected on the east bank of the river, and another fort was built upon the summit of the west ridge in 1755.

In the summer of 1756, five thousand French under Montcalm, with a heavy train of artillery, crossed the lake from Fort Frontenac and appeared before this place. The forts were invested August 11, and after three days of hard fighting, they were surrendered on August 14. Colonel Hugh Mercer was killed during the siege. The victors demolished the forts, burned the English vessels and retired.

In August, 1758, Colonel John Bradstreet, with 3,500 men, crossed the lake from Oswego and reduced Fort Frontenac, August 25. After destroying the fortifications and securing the military stores and vessels, he returned to Oswego and rebuilt the forts there. Fort Ontario was greatly enlarged, and built in the most substantial manner.

In the summer of 1759 the powerful army of Lord Jeffrey Amherst, 10,000 strong embarked at Oswego on an expedition from the St. Lawrence. From this time Oswego became the most important military station on the western frontier.

Here in July 23 to 31, 1766, Sir William Johnson held a council with Pontiac, the great Ottawa chief, and other Indians and made a treaty of peace which ended Pontiac's rebellion, and in which the Indians submitted to the British.

During the Revolutionary War Fort Ontario was strongly garrisoned and formed the headquarters of many of the marauding parties that devastated the frontier settlements.

The fortifications were held first by the British, later by the Americans, again by the British. It continued in their possession until August 11, 1796, when it was the last border post surrendered to the United States under the provisions of Jay's treaty.

For some years after the treaty of peace, which brought to a close the Revolutionary War, the British Government omitted to execute those provisions of the treaty concerning the delivering up of the forts on the northeastern frontier. It was evident that Great Britain was waiting to have a definite perception of the course European affairs were to take, and of the result of the attempt of the United States to perform national functions under their weak league of states.

The United States complained that this detention of the military posts was the main cause of hostility of the northwestern tribes, and Jay made the surrender of these forts a principal clause in his treaty signed November 19, 1794.

Great Britain surrendered these forts on June 1, 1796, the residents having the option of removing or becoming American citizens.

Oswego was the last frontier post surrendered, and the withdrawal of the British garrison, August 11, 1796, took away from the place all that had ever been established of civilized society, and left it as new as though man had never resided there.

The settlement of the present city then began, and Oswego is now one of the most important ports of entry and industrial cities on the Great Lakes.

Tomorrow—Removal of Federal Capital.

One-Piece Satin Dress With Unique Touches

This one-piece satin dress, worn by June Marlow, the "movie" star, has a few unique touches which greatly enhance an otherwise very simple afternoon dress. V-shaped pockets made of black and white satin ribbon made into a checkerboard design; straight tight-fitting sleeves, almost detached from the shoulder, also decorated in checkerboard fashion, are indeed novel.

Dalmatienne New Summer Wrap for Milady's Wear

A new summer restaurant or theater wrap is the dalmatienne in unlined georgette. It is also accompanied by a cape or coat. When the warmer wrap is set aside the dalmatienne may be kept on. With a gray georgette dress embroidered lightly in silver thread a gray sleeveless coat of the kind known as dalmatienne is made to go. The trimming is silver braid or embroidery, and it borders the armholes, the neck and all round the outer edges of the coat. Over a very delicate beige georgette dress which is trimmed with lace of the same color a dalmatienne of the same georgette is worn, and for trimming there is beige fox fur. This forms the collar, the edges of the coat are hemmed a four. With this dress is also worn a beige cape trimmed with heavy fine silk fringe which entirely covers the material by being set off in deep tiers, two feet in depth.

New Powder Box That Will Appeal to Women

Practicality has been combined with beauty in the new powder box. It is opened by pressing on a small spring and brings into place when opened a mirror, which stands free of the powder or rouge section. The cover acts as a receptacle for rouge. The mirror is held in place by two metal bands attached to both parts of the case. The rouge section takes standard size refills and is manipulated by a flat circular banding with three small prongs which makes it easier to adjust and prevent breaking of the finger nails. The same is true of the powder compartment.

These boxes come in silver and gold with finely chased tops or elaborately ornamented filigree covers set with colored stones. Some of them are attached to silk cords with the separate lipstick holder to match.

Shawls Smaller, Square, With Deep Heavy Fringe

Many of the new shawls are somewhat smaller and are square in shape, with deep heavy fringes or borders of satin and squares of doubled chiffon in each corner. Lightweight metal brooches as well as heavy crepe satin are used, with the borders in a contrasting color.

Very wide ribbons are shaded in rainbow effect, two or three colors being beautifully blended.

Frock Trimmings

It's an odd dress that hasn't a string tied to it some place this year. Loose strings hang from shoulder seams either in front or rear, being tied at the position of the normal waistline; string belts are used on most of the new jumpers, string bows fall from shoulders, and string scarves tie about the necks of frocks with V-shaped necklines.

Short Coats

If skirts are getting longer, some-thing coats are getting shorter. These are usually worn over the long elaborate dresses, such as are chosen for the theaters, restaurants and night clubs. One of the latest examples just brought from Paris is a gold lame jacket, knotted at one side. This is meant to be worn with a gold or black little shirt.

Decorative Coats

For sport wear there are some very attractive long coats of jersey embroidered in self-stone.

Table Manners at Training Camp

Plattsburg, Aug. 10.—Table manners are in for improvement if the country takes to heart certain lessons in table etiquette which Army drill sergeants will teach seventeen hundred youngsters at the Citizens' Military Training Camp here.

For one thing, universal adoption of the Army rules for table deportment would sound the death knell of long-distance arms that reach across neighbor's plates. By reaching with the arm farthest from the desired dish, all danger of such invasion is obviated, the sergeants teach.

Other hints included in the lessons range from the proper way to enter the mess hall to the most efficient combinations of the several savory viands which are served at once. Even courtesy as a means of getting the best service from the K. K.'s finds a place in the instruction.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(A 1926 Western Newspaper Union)

How sweet and gracious, even in common speech, is that fine sense which men call courtesy. Wholesome as air and genial as light, Welcome in every clime as breath and flowers—It transmutates aliens into trusting friends, And gives its owner passport 'round the globe.

—James T. Fields.

FOOD FOR THE INVALID

Illness is no respecter of persons; it comes in all homes at times and it is vitally important that we realize how valuable food is in the recovery of a patient.

A trained nurse should be well equipped in knowledge of food values and how to prepare a tempting tray. It is not always possible to have a trained nurse and the mother in the home should have the knowledge.

The tray should be so attractively arranged that it will first appeal to the eye, then to the taste. A rose or small flower in a tiny case or placed beside the plate will make eating a pleasure, what would otherwise be refused or eaten under protest.

With little people who must be urged to eat, many kinds of devices and games will be thought of to amuse and distract attention. Eating with a patient will often cause them to enjoy a meal.

A person who is ill enough to be in bed is out of balance mentally as well as physically, and it is wise to treat him as one does a child.

Variety even in the serving of milk should be striven for, as it is most important. A picture transferred to the bottom of a glass and only seen when it is empty, will often cause a child to drink his milk to see what there is in store for him. Surprises are invaluable. Little tents of writing paper with tiny flags can be used to cover dishes, which will delight the heart of a child or even older patients.

In the case of serious illness, a small quantity of food is given often with every attention of daintiness.

Toast is the most common of tray foods: soups and broths with gruels are others. Toast should be served in finger strips, or if served with egg, should be cut into squares, before placing the egg, so that it is easier to handle.

Another Pair of Swimmers Fail

Calais, France, Aug. 11.—Still another pair of champion swimmers have failed in their attempt to conquer the English Channel.

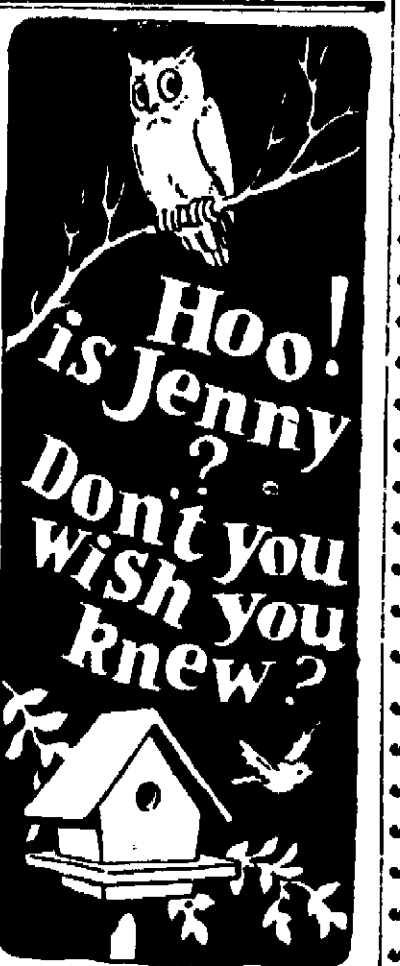

Madame Jane Sion, French woman swimming ace, and Omer Perrault, the French-Canadian star, were forced to abandon their effort at about 3 o'clock this morning. A high wind and rain contributed materially to the defeat.

The couple, accompanied by a single tuk, left Gris Nez at 10:15 o'clock last night. At 2:30 o'clock this morning, they had covered seven miles. This was the last heard from them until later this morning when they arrived on their tug at Calais.

The water, they said, was icy cold which together with the wind, placed success out of reach. This was Perrault's second attempt in a few days. Madame Sion has also tried before. "I'm through, I'll never try again," Madame Sion told newspaper men. "It is too terrible."

TEXAS MAN BORN ARMLESS
CAN DO COWBOY STUNTS

Sweetwater Youth Runs Oil Station and Can Drive Any Make of Automobile.

Sweetwater, Texas — Despite the fact that he entered life with both of his arms and hands shriveled, deformed and useless, Sam Lambert, who runs a small filling station on the highway east of Sweetwater, can now do almost everything with his feet that it is possible for the average man to accomplish with two good hands. He was born with his hands in that condition, and, according to Lambert, he began using his feet as any baby would his hands.

He was raised on a farm, and can do as much farm work as most any man, with the exception of hoeing and picking cotton, but when it comes to handling a team, he's a regular "mule skinner," so his neighbors and friends say.

Not only is he handy with farm work, but he is a real cowboy. He rides well, can rope a running steer or horse, two throws out of three, and can saddle and bridle his own horse. And all with his feet! He cuts the toes of his socks off in order to have free use of his feet at a moment's notice. According to those who know him well, he takes the rope between the toes on one foot and almost before it can be noticed, he has a steer on the other end of the rope. It takes a good-sized animal to pull Sam's feet from beneath him.

When it comes to swimming, he's at home. Although he is only twenty-three years old, he has been swimming and diving at will for over ten years. Sam has attended school about ten years, and during that time he used his feet to do all his writing. And he writes a nice foot at that!

The fact that he has no control or use of his hands has never kept him from feeding himself and shaving himself; he does it with his feet. He has even been known to shave the back of his neck with his feet. But he says it is too much trouble to shave himself, so he goes to a shop now for his tonsorial needs.

Not only is he capable of handling a team, but he drives any make of car, gear shift, or otherwise.

With such a handicap in life many men would have been a burden to their relatives, or to the public, but Sam is as self-supporting and independent as the average man. He does not have hands, but he makes his feet do nearly all that his hands could do.

He is the son of Baxter Lambert, who for years was sheriff of Fisher county.

Boys of Dixie Born

Naturalists, Says Prof.

Berea, Ky. — A close-up of the nature-loving country boy of the Southland these summer days is offered by John F. Smith, Berea college professor, vice president of the Kentucky Folklore society.

While everybody in Dixie, from early childhood to late in life, plays a good part of the time, the average country boy's intimate knowledge would fill a good-sized volume of natural history.

He knows his swimming hole, habits of minnows, groundhog, rabbit, squirrel, other animals. Discovers hiding place of barn owl, screech owl, flying squirrel. Learns where the oven-bird, the waterthrush, kingfisher nest.

Franks' plenty! From doodle-bug party to bear hunt. And a little late, kissing games, such as picking grapes, in which he is inwardly thrilled with prospects they offer, but outwardly shrinks therefrom.

Town of 340 Boasts

$2,500,000 in Banks

Cedar Rapids, Iowa. — A unique village, tucked away in Clayton county, has come into the limelight through its bank report, recently filed with the state banking department.

The village is Garnaville, boasting two banks, the Farmers' State and the Garnaville Savings bank. The combined deposits total $2,500,000. Its population is 340. The Farmers' bank was organized two years ago and 85 per cent of its stock is owned by farmers. No person may own more than ten shares of stock and some own only two. The deposits total $1,861,064.

Garnaville has no poor and it is said that every family owns its own home. The village has no jail. It has been so many years since there was an arrest that the oldest inhabitant has forgotten the date.

Verona to Cupid Cost

Husband, 65, $4,000

New York — Verona written by George Washington Becker 25 years ago to the woman who is now his wife were read in the Kings county supreme court and Becker admitted he recently used them again at the age of sixty-five, but on Mrs. John E. Norton, who is now twenty-five.

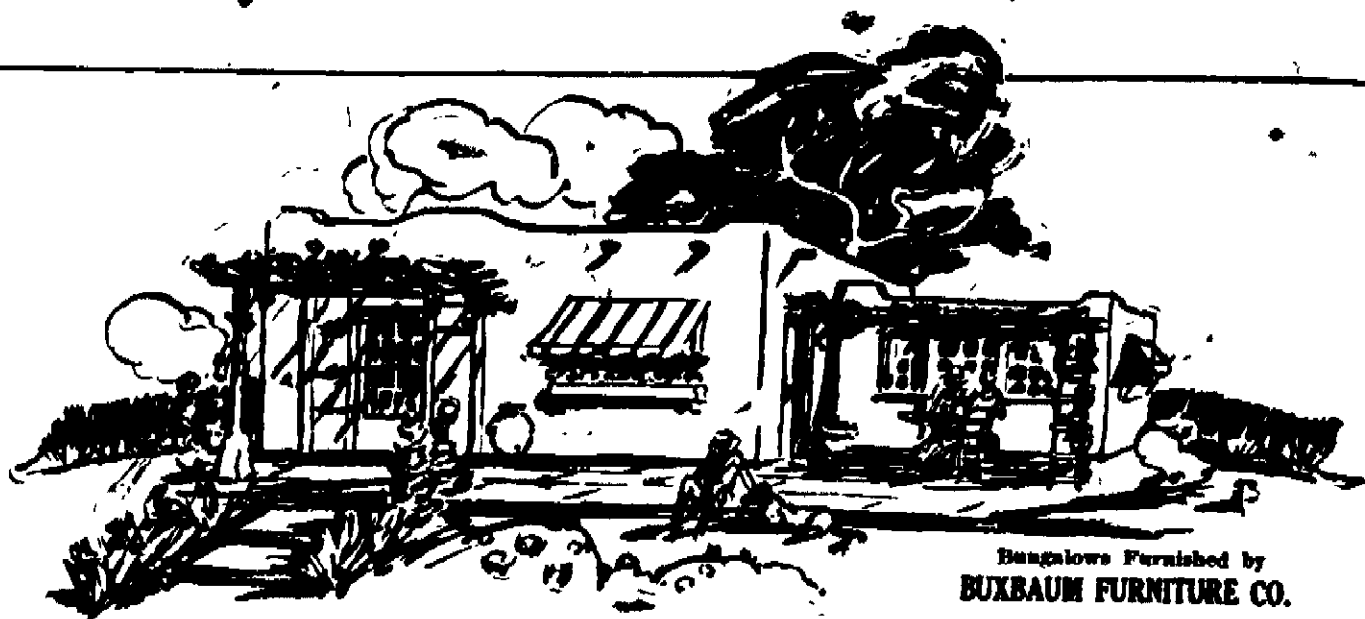

The jury then found Becker guilty of doing $4,000 damage to Norton through alienating Mrs. Norton's affections, as charged "with gifts, amorous rides and poems of passion."

Welcome Joan King Vienna — The City of Vienna has given a fitting welcome to a "Joan King" from Lehrer, Emerich Kalman and other of the city's popular composers have been entertaining Paul Whitman.

Middletown Victory

The Middletown victory was that gained by the Britons over the combined Irish and Scots at Mull, in Ulster, Ireland, March 20, 1690. It is named from the way cry adopted by the Britons.

FOR SOUR, GASSY, ACID STOMACH

Enjoys Made Without Regrets, by the Aid of These Two Delicious Waters

Bottled Under State Supervision at the State Owned Saratoga Springs

Good food and plenty of it—why shouldn't you enjoy it? Under normal conditions, the pleasure of eating is only Nature's promise of the strength and energy that are to follow.

And they will follow, if your digestion is good, as you'll see as soon as you have begun to drink Saratoga Geyser Water. This natural mineral water, whose fine and sparkling lead now sent to Saratoga and dinner, performs a wonderful service for your system by relieving acidity, sourness, belching gas, digestive disorders, bilious attacks, acute indigestion and symptoms of unbalanced digestion. When Geyser is taken freely between meals it acts as an excellent diuretic, relieving rheumatic symptoms.

Insure the good work with Saratoga Hathorn Water. Modern foods, soft and difficult to digest—as they are, are continuously creating in the system a demand for frequent, thorough cleanings. To accomplish these, a bottle of Hathorn should be taken more or less regularly every morning before breakfast.

Sold in Best Grocery Co.'s store, and by other high-class dealers.

"Bargains" at Sale

Two $2.50 gold pieces were sold for two cents, while an old whisky bottle brought $3 at a sale held at Saratoga, Pa. The gold pieces were found in a recently old-fashioned pocketbook, for which five cents was paid. Upon opening the pocketbook and discovering the money, the purchaser was so convinced that the gold was headed back to the discoverer, who sold the pieces to another bidder for $2.50. The bottle was a rare old type.

Probing Tragedy At Brant Beach

Every One in Authority at Brant Beach, Where Eleven Lives Were Lost With No Called To Make a Statement.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Thorough investigations into the tragedy that claimed eleven lives at Brant Beach were launched today by Medical Examiners Long and Dancer and by Sheriff Tyler of Erie county. Dr. Long declared that every one in authority in the vicinity of Brant Beach who has any jurisdiction over that section will be summoned to make a statement about the tragedy. Two life guards are supposed to be on duty at all times while there are bathers in the water, according to Dr. Long. Erna Timmerman, a sister of two of the victims, told Dr. Long she has lived in that section all her life and had never seen a life guard on duty.

Sheriff Frank W. Tyler announced that he will put his department at the disposal of the investigators and that any information uncovered would be turned over to District Attorney Guy B. Moore so that the guilty parties could be brought to justice. The sheriff declared the victims were in three separate groups and there were fully three hours between the first and last drownings. Glenna and Gladys Bronson of Brant and Harry Carstens of Farnham were members of the first party to arrive at the beach and they were the first three victims.

About an hour later the second party arrived for a swim, according to the sheriff, and came to grief when five more lost their lives. None of the second party was warned of the previous drownings or warned of the treacherous waters. The third party arrived more than two hours after the first fatality but was not warned of the previous tragedies.

FOURTH BINNEWATER.

Fourth Binnewater, Aug. 11.—Mr and Mrs. Ed Booth and Mr. and Mrs. George Joy motored to Albany and many other places on a trip Sunday last.

A number from this place are planning on going on an excursion in the near future.

Mrs. C. Clark and her guests at the Hill Crest Lodge visited at Mohawk Lake one day the past week.

Mrs. L. Lasher, who was taken seriously ill on Monday morning, was hurried to the hospital and operated on. All hope it will be successful and that Mrs. Lasher will speedily recover.

Mr and Mrs. Ed Booth spent Saturday and Sunday with their daughter at Foughkeepsie.

Mr and Mrs. G. Roosa of Foughkeepsie who have been staying with Mr and Mrs. G. Walton for the past week have returned to their home.

The Ladies Aid will hold their supper and fair on Thursday, August 19, instead of the 18th, as before mentioned, on account of the Farm Bureau picnic being on the 18th.

Two beautiful quilts, something entirely new, will be on sale at the fair and numerous other fancy articles as luncheon sets, dresser and table servies, pillow cases, dresses and aprons for children and women, besides all the fancy things. There will also be a touch and take table at one ten cents a package. Supper will be served from 6 p. m. until all are served. Menu: Hot chicken, biscuit gravy, mashed potatoes, carrots and peas, tomato salad, pickles, bread and coffee, apple and peach pie. Also cake and ice cream on sale extra. Remember the 19th to be held at the club hall as usual.

R. Freer and family visited his parents on Sunday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs. Rufus Freer of Mount Marion and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fayette of Saugerties were in this place on Sunday.

Samuel Freer and lady friend were callers in this place on Sunday.

Let us hope there will be a better attendance at the chapel next Sunday. Preaching at 4 p. m. Sunday school at 3 p. m. It seems too bad to have a minister come in as large a community as this to preach to about one dozen or fourteen people.

Mrs. T. Menchen has her house nearly filled with city guests.

Mrs. F. Lisch has a number of city guests also.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Clark motored to Westbrookville on Sunday to visit her sister, Mrs. Van Sycor.

Mrs. W. Schoonmaker has been spending the past week with her brother, Tom Charloers.

Everett Walton and family were at his father's on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Joy called on her mother one night recently.

Outside in Bookworms

The accustomed serenity of the Dutchess public library was disturbed recently by the discovery of a giant python curled up in a corner below a case containing the Encyclopedia Britannica. How the reptile got in is a mystery. No harm was done, however, the intruder allowing itself to be transferred to a sack without protest. It was 10 feet long and 8 inches in girth.

Early Protective Device

They the elder Roman naturalist and author, writing in the First century, is perhaps the first to make mention of the use of protective devices for the legs of workers in dusty trades. He said: "Those employed in the trade purporting to cover their faces with a bladder skin, that they may not inhale the pernicious powder, yet they can see through the skin."

Extreme Optimism

There is a story about the most optimistic man: Totally bald, he went to a drug store and asked for a bottle of hair restorer. "Yes, sir," the clerk said: "here is a preparation that is sure to make your hair grow." "All right," replied the optimist, "I'll take a bottle. And please wrap up a comb and brush with it."

MRS. JOHN LANGLEY

BISHOP A. W. LEONARD

Georges Clemenceau pleaded with President Coolidge to lift the French war debt. A maniac was seized as he was about to fire at General Pangalos, President of Greece. Mrs. John W. Langley, wife of the Congressman convicted of violating the dry law, won the nomination for his former seat from Tennessee. Bishop Adna W. Leonard, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, said that Al Smith could not be elected President because of his religion.

SOME chaps are satisfied with their home-made radio set . . . until they hear a bigger and better set at their neighbor's. It's much the same with tobacco. You may think your present brand is the last word. But, until you smoke Prince Albert, you don't know how good that pipe can taste!

Among the biggest boosters this grand old tobacco has are the converts who figured: "Maybe I'm not getting all my pipe can give me in deep-down satisfaction. I'm going to try P. A." They did try Prince Albert and they've stuck. Tear a leaf out of their book.

No other tobacco is like Prince Albert. Buy a tidy red tin, throw back the hinged lid and breathe deeply of its wonderful fragrance. That's real tobacco! Cool when you smoke it . . . cool and sweet and fragrant as the breeze from an old-fashioned garden.

Why be satisfied with less than perfection! Go now to that nearby smoke-shop and get a tidy red tin of P. A.—the tobacco that has brought pleasure to so many men that it is known as the National Joy Smoke. Load up and light up. Your face will light up with the smile that P. A. regulars know so well.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, packed and half-packed in tins, and packed in small glass tins with sponge-moisture top. And always with every bit of bite and punch conveyed by the Prince Albert process.

Eleanor Gunn On Fashions

The Zebra Stripe is the Gamy of the Stylish Stout, but the Darling of Even Contrasting Bands is a Feature of the Mode For All That.

It is not particularly difficult to hark back in memory to the days when ribbons played a very minor part in the mode. Excepting to adjust one's lingerie, ribbon seemed non-essential. This sorry state of affairs could not be permitted to continue. Designers banded together to make ribbon good, and good it certainly is, for all sorts of complicated trimming details, as well as to give the effect of stripes when the material is innocent of them. There are ever so many applied stripes, not all, however, achieved with ribbon, for designers are duplicating their ribbon effects in braid.

Since it has become the part of style wisdom to trim skirt hems, perhaps to keep their brevity from arresting general attention, it has come to pass that all manner of ruffles and choux have been revived, and these have been made of tulle, taffeta, moire, and even velvet ribbon, with grosgrain added for good measure.

A Youthful Frock. Fashioned of Green Chiffon and Matching Ribbon. Applied to Horizontal Stripes. The Square Cut Neckline is an Interesting Style Note.

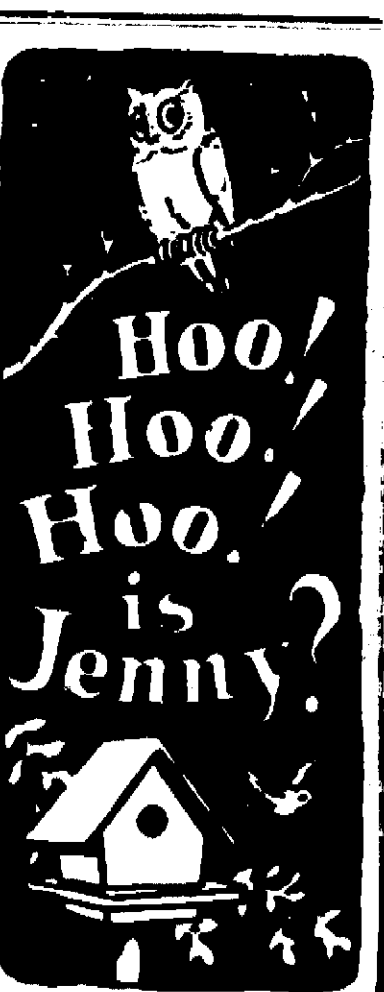

The great success of the summer, however, has been belting ribbon. Out of its firmness and richness, the smartest sort of hats have been fashioned, nothing but a good-looking pin being necessary to complete them. Ribbon bindings, often in contrasting color, have been added, not only to frocks but to lingerie, and there seems to be no limit to the really effective uses to which ribbon has been put this season. It has rather less often found its more usual use, such as for bows and sashes.

For evening, one welcomes ribbon decorations as a change from the scintillation of beads and spangles. These seem to dominate the mode yet one hears of untrimmed crepes and of rather restrained uses of ribbon. Beading and spangles certainly seem rather too mature for the juvenile fillet. For her there are many new ribbon treatments, applied horizontal bands being among the most approved.

Sport Dress of Silk Crepe Has Little Cape

This sport dress is of silk crepe in wide bands of French gray and blue. It is greatly enhanced by a smart little cape and plaited skirt.

Jewelry and Perfumes Sent Over From Paris

A novel ensemble in jewelry just from Paris is the double hat ornament and pendant drop of etched or engraved crystal. Two short spike pins are worn instead of the one of last season. They come in a variety of shapes and designs and match up the pendants, which are worn either on a chain or a narrow black silk ribbon or cord. The drops come in ovals, oblongs, graduated balls and squares. They are particularly attractive looking when worn with the summer prints.

Another touch of summer novelty in jewelry is seen in the new insect pins, which are strikingly realistic and faithful in their detail. One of the bee pins, for instance, has eyes of purplish-blue, with antennae of silver set with very small rhinestones to give a glittering effect. The wings are of black enamel and silver. In the collection there are beetles, gnats, lady bugs and many others, all copied with the same attention to detail.

Concentrated perfume in paste form comes from Paris, too. It comes in small galalith boxes and is used simply by taking a small dab of it and applying it wherever desired. There is a wide choice of scents to select from. This form of perfume is particularly handy when traveling, and is convenient for carrying in a handbag, eliminating the danger of upsetting the contents or of breaking glass.

A powder puff for the handbag is different from others in that it has a case all of its own, which is not much larger than a lipstick holder. It has a cap cover which unscrews and, when removed, reveals the puff tucked inside. In order to bring the puff into place for use, a slight pressure on the lower section telescopes it into the other section and brings the puff into place, making it look like a small flower in a single stem vase. The puff is of white swansdown and the case of galalith, which may be had in a variety of colors.

Newest Evening Scarf Is Like Spanish Shawl

For evening, the scarf takes on large square proportions in imitation of the Spanish shawl. Vivid velvet squares bordered and lined in silver or gold cloth and plaited in floral or modernistic designs are among the newest of evening wraps. A green velvet square, for instance, is bordered in silver and printed in silver and black design. The young miss about town wears large square shawls of chiffon, georgette, lace or tulle which she throws over her chair while dancing. Her heavier wrap is removed before she enters the dining room. Such a square of black lace has bands of rose chiffon adorning the underneath side in border effect. The black square is bordered with tulle ruffles. Worn over a black-toned chiffon frock the effect is very stunning.

Sunburn Scarf One New Accessory for Sports

To prevent the appearance of the V-shaped red patch on neck and chest, the babe of the woman tennis player, an accessory to this season's tennis outfit is the "sunburn scarf." Made of double crepe de chine, the scarfs are just long enough to twist around neck and throat except for the embroidered ends, one of which falls over the chest as a sunshield while the other does the same service for the back of the neck.

Waistline Near Normal

Waistlines, like the rest of dressing, are creeping up. Dresses of light material such as tulle or lace are usually draped or flared over the hip. Fuller material such as tulle and satin are made rather on princess lines, close fitting at the waist, which is raised. Dresses which have plaited skirts worn on the bodice show a really high-waisted effect.

Kind in Human Nature

The memory of past favors is like a rainbow, bright, vivid, and beautiful, but it soon fades away. The memory of injuries is engraved on the heart, and remains forever—Hilbertson.

That at recent polo matches attended by fashionables, the percentage of white lace stockings and of white novelty woollen ones was rather high. There were, of course, nude and even some pastel dikes, but the newer developments toward wools and laces was noticeable.

Printed crepes and chiffons in rather vivid colorings continue to be the choice of many who lunch at smart restaurants, these rather flutty frocks usually being topped by large hats.

Slip-on gloves are the type liked best for sports wear, and many women seem to have adopted them for general summer wear.

Paris reports that women wearing black, as many do for evening dress, are partial to black satin slippers.

Crystal jewelry seems to be the newest in costume jewelry, crystals not only being combined with jets, but with both silver and gold.

Chanel red has become almost as popular in this country as in Paris.

While cotton frocks cannot be given a position of great prominence, it appears that there is a certain percentage of them at such resorts as are calling the smart set, Southampton for example.

Suzanne Talbot's new Fedora crown has already appeared in America. Smart women wore a rather ultra version of it at the Ritz a day or so ago.

Pink and all shades of rose, as well as white, continue to be the preference for evening clothes this summer.

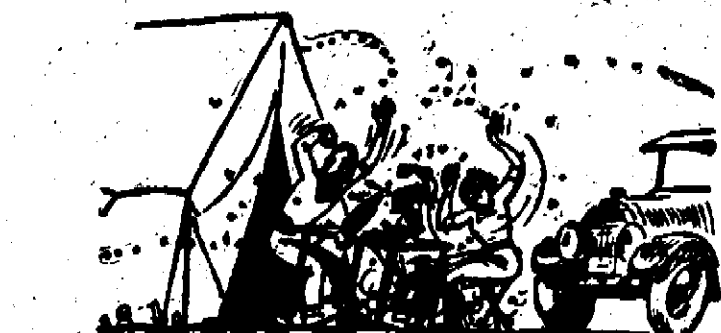

A Venetian bridal dress of gold and ivory was worn by one of the most important brides of the London season. It was further enriched by embroideries of pearl.

Felt hats of the sports type are now seen banded with snake and other reptile skins, while the college boy's tri-colored band is no longer sacred to him any more than is the striped flannel bath-robe, for both sexes are wearing them.

for the first time! only four oil changes a year

It is no longer necessary to drain crankcase oil every 500 miles. Four changes of oil a year are enough, when you own a 1927 Buick.

The crankcase in the 1927 Buick is vacuum cleaned! A vital new improvement—the Vacuum Ventilator—draws all crankcase vapors out into the open before they have an opportunity to do harm.

Now, all that is necessary is to add oil occasionally, and then change it 4 times a year, simply as a supercaution.

Come in and let us show you the Greatest Buick Ever Built!

Railroad Traffic Substantial.

Surplus Freight Cars

Boston Park, Mass., Aug. 11.—(Special.)—This is the season of the year when New England becomes horrid to multitudes of people who are seeking rest and recreation at the mountains or seashore. The New England railroads of course as well as railroads outside of the district, are now sharing substantially in the nature of passenger and freight receipts. The "come-back" of the New England railroads of late has been an extraordinary phenomenon of that region of our country. But they are not the only roads to be showing rapid advancement. Railroad traffic throughout the country is substantial, and most railroads far better off than for many years.

Surplus freight cars in June amounted to only 250 thousand cars as compared with 284 thousand cars in May. Freight moving on western railroads during July was quite a bit ahead of 1925.

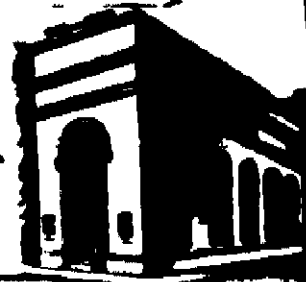

A lot of western would rather have an ounce of operation than a pound of cure.

Lawmakers Are Visiting Europe

Senators and Representatives Visit Various Countries to Study Conditions With View to Drafting or Opposing Legislation.

Washington, Aug. 11.—The American Congress to know Europe a little better before the summer ends with debt problems rising to haunt American good will abroad, with world markets to supply and with "tips" to be gained from European practices, Congress is sending an unusually large delegation of sight-seers across the Atlantic during the recess, a check up revealed today. The Congressional visitors go abroad for the purpose of gathering first-hand information to be used either in debate or in drafting legislation.

The debt problems present the greatest lure, as drives for cancellation or for reducing payments already agreed upon are anticipated within the next few years. As a result, Congress wants to get some "personal" observations on political, social and economic conditions throughout Europe.

The vanguard of this European invasion incidentally was led by a Cabinet member, Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, who is now in Italy and en route to both France and England. When and if Mellon informs Congress in the future about European conditions, he will find a considerable number of senators and representatives just as fully informed.

Before the summer ends, it is estimated, a score of Senators and Congressmen will have visited Europe. The largest single group—three Senators and four Representatives—will visit the Interparliamentary Union sessions in Geneva starting August 26. En route and homeward bound, the delegation will visit France and England and may even venture into Italy. The group comprises Senators Pat Harrison, of Miss. Claude A. Swanson of Va., T. H. Caraway of Ark. and Ropa. Andrew J. Montague, Va. Stephen G. Porter, Pa. Theodore E. Burton, Ohio, and Fred Hittner, Illinois. Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama and Rep. William S. Vare of Pennsylvania are in the midst of European tours now. Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania left yesterday. Other Senators contemplate European travels before Congress reconvenes.

Kingston Council, No. 124, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, will celebrate Liberty Day with a lawn social on Saturday, August 14, at the home of Lela Jones, 177 Downs street. There will be refreshments. All members requested to be present.

Food Sale Saturday.

Mosquitoes Carry Malaria in City

Several Cases of Disease Reported in City and Also at Eddyville—First Time Malaria Has Been Reported Here in Warm Time.

That mosquitoes are spreading malaria in Kingston and vicinity has been brought to the attention of Dr. Daniel Connelly, city health officer, who stated today that several cases had been reported in Kingston and that there were also several cases of the disease reported at Eddyville.

This disease is spread by mosquitoes that breed in stagnant pools, and those residing in the vicinity of such pools can rid themselves of the mosquitoes by spreading kerosene oil on the water, which kills the mosquito.

The ordinary mosquito which invades Kingston each summer does not spread the disease, and there is only one breed of mosquito that carries the malaria germ.

During July nearly a dozen blood tests were made of patients afflicted with malaria which they had contracted by being bit by mosquitoes carrying the germ.

Milton, who looks forward with the keenest anticipation to the millions, says that he will not change his way of living, but believes that the money will open up an opportunity of realizing his youthful ambitions. He expects to become an artist, specializing in commercial work.

Tigers Narrowly Escape Death

Sixteen Members of Detroit Baseball Team Narrowly Escaped Death When Pullman Car Burst in Flames.

Detroit, Aug. 11.—Sixteen members of the Detroit baseball club narrowly escaped death today when the Pullman car in which they were sleeping burst into flames at Decatur, Ill., according to a despatch received here.

The ball players were forced to flee the burning car in their night clothes, the despatch stated.

The flames started from a hot box. The sleeping Tigers were awakened when the car became intensely hot and filled with smoke. The players were almost suffocated and most of them made ill by the fumes. The truck of the sleeping car was a mass of flames, only the steel construction of the car saving it from destruction.

Trainsmen declared the trouble was discovered just in time to prevent a serious wreck. In five minutes more they said, the wheel at the flaming hot box would have fallen off and the train derailed.

After the fire was extinguished the car was detached from the train and the half suffocated Tigers transferred to another car. The members of the Tiger team who were in the Pullman were: Ty Cobb, manager; George McBride, coach; Lou Blue, Harry Heilmann, John Bassler, Earl Whitehill, John Neun, Jack Tavener, John Warner, Lil Stoner, Frank O'Rourke, George Dauss, Trainer Jimmy Dugan, Larry Woodall, Charles Gehring and Clyde Manlon.

RENEWING FRIENDSHIPS IN ULSTER COUNTY

E. J. Fitzpatrick and family are spending some time at the Tammy House, New Paltz. Mr. Fitzpatrick is renewing old friendships in Ulster county and living over the old days with the friends of his youth. He is a former resident of High Falls but has for more than a quarter of a century been connected with the New York custom house where he is in the appraisal department, recognized as the foremost authority on crockery quality and values in the country.

Returning From Europe.

C. J. Curtin and family and Dr. and Mrs. Cook, who have been touring Europe, are expected to arrive in New York on August 29. Mr. Curtin is president of the Farnam Cheshire Lime Co., with offices in New York city. He is a native of High Falls.

Judge Allen Concedes Defeat

Pomerene's Victory Forecasts Bitter Wet-Dry Battle in Ohio at Coming Election—Results of Other Contests.

Columbus, O., Aug. 11.—"I congratulate Senator Altee Pomerene on the outcome of the primary."

With these words Miss Florence Allen, 42-year-old justice of the state Supreme court, conceded her defeat for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator today.

Judge Allen expressed her thanks to her supporters.

Myers Cooper of Cincinnati, president of the Ohio Council of Churches, won the Republican nomination for governor.

Senator Frank B. Willis walked off with the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

In the Democratic senatorial race, ex-Senator Altee Pomerene, an acknowledged wet, defeated Judge Florence Allen, a dry and an exponent of the world court. Pomerene's victory forecasts a bitter wet-dry battle in Ohio at the November election.

Governor Vic Donahey won the Democratic nomination for governor, beating his nearest opponent, former Secretary of Agriculture A. P. Sandies, 6 to 1.

MAY CONSIDER DEMPSEY AT SPECIAL MEETING.

New York, Aug. 11.—The Boxing Commission and license committee will consider the application of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, for a license to fight Gene Tunney at a special meeting which has been called for 10:30 Thursday morning, George E. Brower, commission member, informed the International News Service today.

"It is within the power of any member of the commission to call a special meeting when business warrants it," said Brower. "Tex Rickard has been notified to be present."

Rickard said that as the special meeting had been summoned, it was probable that Dempsey would have to abandon his plans to leave for his training camp at Saratoga tonight.

WILL ROGERS TAKES CHECK AND TEARS IT UP

London, Aug. 11.—Will Rogers may be a diplomat in disguise after all.

The Daily Sketch declares that at the end of Will Rogers' first week in Charles Cochran's revue, that Cochran was puzzled as to how much he should pay Rogers. Finally Cochran sent his manager to Rogers with a blank check.

Rogers took the check and tore it up, saying: "I am having a fine time here and everyone's being mighty good to me. Why should I take your profits?"

If the Daily Sketch is correct, this incident ought to help alleviate the debt controversy.

EARLY RETURNS FAVOR "BONE DRY" CANDIDATE.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 11.—The nomination of Governor Adam McMullen, republican gubernatorial candidate, who ran on a "bone-dry" platform with the endorsement of the Ku Klux Klan, was regarded as virtually certain today as returns from the 20 counties unreported up to midnight, continued to pile up his totals. The unofficial count today gave McMullen a lead of more than 20,000 over Fred G. Johnson, runner-up.

Former Governor Charles Bryan, vice presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket in 1924, was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

JUDGE MARTINEAU PILES UP A HEAVY LEAD.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 11.—Judge John E. Martineau, opponent of Governor Tom Terral for the Democratic nomination for governor, continued to pile up a heavy lead over the governor as the counting of votes in yesterday's Democratic primary election progressed today.

With many rural precincts yet unheard from, Martineau had a lead of 7,677 votes in the returns available early today.

Black Leading Underwood.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 11.—Steadily climbing to a commanding lead over his nearest opponent, Hugo L. Black, Birmingham attorney, appeared almost a certainty to succeed Oscar W. Underwood in the United States senate from Alabama, on the basis of returns this morning from the Alabama Democratic primary elections.

Wants Federal Job.

Reg. A. Galloway, chairman of the Republican state committee of Oregon, is a definite candidate for the post of assistant secretary of the Post of New York, a position made vacant by the death of John J. Donnelly of Oregon.

Will Reconstruct Road.

Reconstruction of the Washington Falls-Titchell highway at a total cost of $447,000 was approved by the board of supervisors of Dutchess county on Monday. A number of dangerous curves will be eliminated.

LAST NIGHT on THE RADIO

Another perfect night for the radio fans, with local stations giving good programs and distant stations doing the same.

Stations that had gone into retirement recently came back as of yore. Among them were WREO, WSM and KDKA.

Even the bloopers were merciful. "Maggie Murphy's Home" from WJZ brought back recollections of Liscomb's Opera House with its picturesque proprietor, his trowers tucked in cowhide boots, a perpetual smile on his face as he contemplated the crowded house. That was when "Maggie Murphy's Home" and "Down Went McGinty" were the newest songs of the day and a Liscomb's audience could be depended on to put pep in the actors by frank approval or disapproval.

MILLER BARBER SHOP IN NEW LOCATION.

The building in which he will move his shop is being remodeled and a new front installed on the first floor as well as alterations made to the second floor to which he will move his shop.

DANCE

KENNEDY'S HALL

(formerly Baldwin's)

EDDYVILLE

Friday, August 13.

Musical by Tony Turk and his Romance of Rhythm Orchestra.

ADMISSION

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Aug. 11.—A dance will be given by the Ladies' Talmud Torah Society on Monday, August 16, at Norbury Hall. Music by the Mount Mcenahga Orchestra.

Misses Dora and Jennie Francis have returned to their home in Ellington, after a two weeks' vacation spent with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Benedict of Norwich, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Hoornbeek, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoornbeek and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoornbeek returned last week from a motor tour which took them as far as Niagara Falls. Kenneth and wife have returned to their Albany home after a two weeks' vacation at the home of his parents on Center street.

EXPERIENCES RIVAL VIKINGS OF OLD

Boston, Aug. 10.—"Vikings of old never had a more perilous voyage than we," said Captain Gerhard Folger, of Bergen, Norway, aboard his replica of Lief Erikson's sailing ship, which was tied up to a local wharf today.

During the 6,400 mile voyage Folger's ship was locked between giant icebergs, harassed by hurricanes, blown hundreds of miles off the course, and those aboard faced thirst and almost starvation.

"Four times," said the captain, "we gave ourselves up for lost. I gathered my men about me and told them we had done everything possible. The icebergs were on every side. It was all up to the 'Big Man' (God) and we were convinced that it was all over with us. We prayed, we would be loosened from the ice floes but again the bergs would close in on us, threatening to crush our little ship. Finally we got out. Sixty miles off your Graves light we were picked up by the cutter Red Wing. We were in a pretty tough position. We had four potatoes aboard, a bit of salt fish and three gallons of water."

After resting here the modern Vikings—Folger and his crew of three men—will sail to the Sesqui-centennial Exposition at Philadelphia and later will take the ship to Chicago and leave it there as a permanent memorial to Erikson.

Fair at Wittenberg.

A fair will be held at the Wittenberg M. E. Church on August 12, afternoon and evening, to raise money for the benefit of the church. There will be a fish pond, children's races and other events, the winners to be awarded prizes. A fancy work and rug department will be an added feature. At 6 o'clock, daylight saving time, a hot chicken supper will be served and ice cream, cake, candy and lemonade will be on sale for those who attend.

Three Jailed in Gambling Probe

At Saratoga For Refusing to Respond to Subpoena—Eight Others Will Be Brought Into Court Today.

Ballston Spa, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Three men were in jail today and eight others were ordered brought into court for refusing to respond to subpoenas in the investigation which Supreme Court Justice Christopher J. Hefferman is conducting into alleged gambling conditions at Saratoga Springs.

The investigation was ordered by Governor Al Smith after Peter V. Finley, president of the Saratoga Taxpayers' Association, had filed charges with the governor that gambling was wide open at Saratoga.

The three men who were jailed refused to answer questions put to them by Justice Hefferman. They are Almoner F. White, James C. Fennel, and Matthew E. Byrne.

White is said to be one of the owners of Fennel & White, an alleged gambling house named in the Finley charges. When he refused to tell from whom he rented the building in which his cigar store is located, Justice Hefferman said.

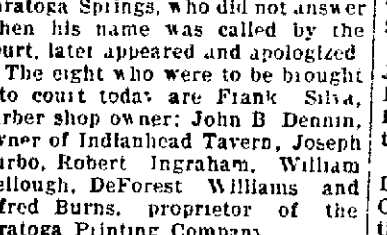

"Lock this man up."

"I want it distinctly understood, that I meant what I said when I announced this investigation would be thorough," Justice Hefferman added.

Mayor Clarence H. Knapp of Saratoga Springs, who did not answer when his name was called by the court, later appeared and apologized.

The eight who were to be brought into court today are Frank Silva, barber shop owner; John B. Dennin, owner of Indianhead Tavern; Joseph Burbo, Robert Ingraham, William Kellough, DeForest Williams and Alfred Burns, proprietor of the Saratoga Printing Company.
